The Weitzer Suite above the roofs of the historic city centre

Just like all other Weitzer Hotels, ‘Das Weitzer’ stands out for its independent and harmonious hotel concept. The headquarter in Graz unites traditional and contemporary hospitality to offer an overall complete experience à la Weitzer. A good example of which is the Weitzer Suite, which makes an impression with its total beauty: artistic charm combined with extraordinary ideas and a view of the surrounding roofs of the historic city centre - a UNESCO world heritage site – make it a place for reminiscing and inspiration. After trying it once, you’ll long to visit again.

‘Das Weitzer’ has been amongst the best addresses in Graz for more than 100 years now. One thing that hasn’t changed over the years is its central location in the heart of Graz. Not even a five minute walk from the ‘Kunsthau’ art museum, ‘Schlossberg’ and ‘Murinsel’. There is not even a hint of stagnation: Florian Weitzer, now the fourth generation of hotel owner, preserves space for long-standing old traditions by aligning them with the latest trends. And that’s why ‘Das Weitzer’ has so much to offer that is unconventional: Traditional cuisine in a contemporary style at ‘Der Steirer’ restaurant, an old Austrian coffee house, e-bikes for hire and 204 charismatic rooms. And the Weitzer Suite, opened in 2013, on the top floor.

But just having separate sleeping and living quarters is not what makes a ‘suite’. And neither is the – admittedly imposing – 116m<sup>2</sup> total area of the suite. It’s really the soulfully and creatively selected details, which together create unique comfort for your stay and – without showing off – pure enjoyment. As always, Florian Weitzer doesn't adhere to any sort of planned out style but rather he follows his own, imaginative design impulses. This is how the Weitzer Suite distinguishes itself by its special features, which impress the guests and provide material for stories: where else can you find a green oasis with all kinds of plants, right in the middle of your hotel room? Or a little spiral staircase that frees up the best view of the Graz 'Schlossberg' from the living room? About that view: the absolute highlight of the Weitzer Suite is its private terrace, from which a type of viewing platform can be accessed. From up there you can see far over the historic city centre of Graz – UNESCO world heritage site since 1999. The suite provides a further "relaxation oasis" with its free-standing bathtub and comfortable leather sofas – designed in-house and positioned directly in front of the fireplace. A romantic touch is provided for in the Weitzer Suite by the Italian bed, with its detailed headboard and the chandelier-like lamp – inspiration provided for by the long history of the Weitzer Hotels. Or the wrought-iron lighting construction with candle-light optics, positioned above the wooden table. Next to it the simple writing desk, which is perfect for working or surfing the internet for free.

It's worth leaving the comfy suite occasionally for the following 'Das Weitzer' hotel extras: At 'Der Steirer' restaurant and neighbouring 'Steirer Shop' typical Styrian things are presented in a contemporary way and with that special extra something. The saying goes: eat, drink and take-away. Just around the corner, 'Kaffee Weitzer', one of the last old Austrian, traditional coffee houses in Graz can be found. By the way, an overview of all the big and small specialities of the hotel can be found in the general press pack and on the website www.hotelweitzer.com.
